Pacific 2015 study camp introduced to Taiwan's Economic and Trade Performance

BY BEN BILUA

THE 2015 Pacific Islands Study Camp participants yesterday took part in two lecture sessions to kick off their day-seven training session.

The first lecture was about Taiwan's Economic and Trade Performance and Cross-Strait Policy and Economic Cooperation Framework Agreement of Taiwan.

This includes Taiwan's present and future economic performance and global economy and position of Taiwan in the Global Economy.

Speaking during the first lecture, the Director General of Chinese Taipei Pacific Economic Cooperation Committee, Darson Chiu, said Taiwan has been progressing well in the global export activities and moment.

He told the 2015 Pacific Islands Youth Study Camp that Taiwan has contributed 70.99 percent of fragmented production toward gross export activities.

Professor Chiu stressed that Taiwan exports many commodities, some of them are; electronics, flat panels, machineries, metals, textiles, plastics and chemical opticals.

He further added that Taiwan's major export destinations include China, United States of America, Japan and Singapore.

Meanwhile, Professor Chiu also disclosed that Taiwan has high import commodities in order to keep up for the global production demand.

He said Taiwan import mainly raw products like electronics, machineries, precision instrument, organic chemical and metals.

Professor Chiu told the participants that Taiwan's major imports come from United States, Japan and China.

In the meantime, he said strong economic and trade performance depend entirely on how the government renders support to the sector.

Professor Chiu said Politics plays a major role in international trade and economic development by widening the trade relations and agreements.
